Low Visibility
Without a reliable way to track your leased technology assets, you are more likely to encounter costly repairs, unanticipated downtime, and missed end-of-lease dates.

No Refresh Options
Not all lease agreements have Technology Refresh options that enable you to upgrade old, outdated equipment before you’ve reached the end of your lease.

Back-End Costs
Many lessors enhance their yield through evergreen clauses (auto renewals) and other non-rent charges at the end of your lease, increasing your total cost by 25% or more.

Complete Visibility
LAMP—LaSalle’s industry-leading lease, asset, and maintenance contract management platform—gives you 24/7 visibility into your leased equipment portfolio from any device.

Automatic Refresh Cycles
We match lease terms to an asset’s useful life and establish refresh cycles to ensure equipment is always up-to-date. No long-term commitments or risk of ownership.

No Back-End Costs
Our lease rates are based on realistic resale values. The result is a total lease payment that is less than the equipment cost with no hidden details, clauses, or fees at lease end.
